Instantly Killed.
The Plumas, Cal., National of the 19th instant says: "Last Saturday, Levi Mullin, a bright, intelligent boy aged 10 years, son of Nat Mullin of Onion Valley, was instantly killed at the Thomas claim on Poorman's Creek by the explosion of a quicksilver tank that had been loaded with powder for the purpose of planting in the claim to protect the sluices from robbers. The unfortunate boy was stopping with W. H. Knowles, who is in charge during the winter. From what we can learn the tank was in an adjoining room to the kitchen, where Mr. Knowles was cooking dinner. The boy got a hammer and was pounding on the tank, when he struck the cap that had been fixed for exploding it. The explosion tore away the whole front part of the body from the chest downward. Mr. Knowles notified his parents of the dreadful accident as soon as possible. The body was brought to Onion Valley and buried last Thursday."

Persuasion Personified.

"Speaking about industry," said a gentleman to a State reporter yesterday, "I know a man who has built a house by a most singular method of industry. For many years past he has picked up from the streets one brick at a time, and a year ago he had accumulated a sufficient number of bricks to build him a small house in the suburbs. There is no day that you will not find on the principal streets as many bricks as you can carry home. They are dropped by wagons, thrown out of houses, and in some way get out in the street."—[Richmond State].

Notice!

Manning & Jaques have been commissioned by the Reno Gas Co. as a competent firm to do their gas-fitting, and the company would recommend parties having work of the above character to do, to employ only the best workman, thereby saving much annoyance and expense. What She Thought She Must Be.

"Are you a Presbyterian?" asked a lady of a little girl who was visiting at her house.

"No," replied the droll child; "nor a Methodist nor a Baptist. I guess I must be an advertisement."

$500 Not Called For

It seems a range that it is necessary to persuade men that you can cure their diseases, offer a premium to them who can fail to carry out their promises. And yet we have undubitedly cured thousands of cases of obstinate catarrh with his "Catarrh Remedy," who would have never let it to him, if it had not been for his offer to the above sum for an incurable case. What is the next bidder for a cure or catarrh?

A Wonderful Freak of Nature

Is sometimes exhibited in our public exhibitions. We have all seen some of these peculiar freaks damage done to one occasionally indulge in our minds revert back to the creation of man, "who is so fearfull and wonder fully made." The mystery of his nature has been unraveled by Dr. F. V. Leece of Buffalo, and through his kindred efforts to the world he has been able to prepare his "Golden Medical Decree," which is a specific for a phthisis, its poison and humors, such as ague, fits, pimplies, eruptions, swellings, tumors, ulcers and kindred afflictions. By druggists.

A Bonanza Mine.

Of health is to be found in Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," to the merits of which, as a remedy for female weakness and kindred afflictions, thouglands testify.

The Fish Commissioner, W. M. Carey of Carson, makes an interesting report of his two year's work. He has had donations of a hundred thousand trout eggs from the United States fishery, a quarter of which were spoiled, and twenty-five thousand from Captain J. B. Overton of Virginia City. They were hatched and distributed throughout the State, but many of them were lost by reason of the Commissioner not having funds to send any one to take proper care of them. He also had about three hundred carp to distribute, but he does not consider them a very desirable fish, and prefers Lake Michigan white fish. He recommends the erection of a hatchery in one corner of the Orphans' Home lot at a cost of five hundred dollars which would do away with the general breaking up every time a new Commissioner is appointed. He denies the statement in the report of the California Commissioner that a dam has been placed in the Truckee to prevent the trout running up. The dam at Hamlin & Doran's mill is the only one near the State line, and it does not stop the fish. He expresses a desire to co-operate with the California commission in anything for the benefit of the river, and suggests that they begin by stopping the saw-just deposits. The work of the Fish Commissioner is very important and he should be given means to carry it on properly. Nevada needs food fish, both for canning and sport, and she has streams in every county that should be stocked.

Referring to the Presidents veto of the bill to provide the drouth-ruined farmer of Texas with sufficient seed for their next summer's crop, the Salt Lake Tribune says: The doctrine on which the veto rests in the old one of "Government hands off," so familiar in the veto messages before the war. The dogma that "though the people support the Government the Government should not support the people," is one that has received but partial favor in this generation, and as a principle should in the opinion of all the protectionist adherents, be much modified. As there may be cases where no relief but government relief could meet the emergency in promptitude and sufficiency, so there are cases where Government relief (not strictly "support") must be conceded; as in the use of Government tents and supplies at Charleston after the earthquake, or the detail of Government supply boats during the Ohio river flood. It hardly meets the case to consider the Government as a mighty machine, heartless and purposeless; in fact, the Government is the people, who are neither of these; and the popular voice of sympathy, expressed through their representatives, ought not to be stifled with dry husks of outgrown and largely obsolete theories of "strict constitutional construction."

Carson City is making an effort to get the State to spend as much money as possible in the erection of government buildings, with two objects. One is to provide present employment and put money in circulation and the other is to make it more and more difficult and expensive to ever move the State capital away from there. Nature has done nothing for our neighbor and if the capital is ever moved she will be deader than Star City, but she is blessed with a class of far-seeing and devoted citizens who never forget her interests and who have done wonders in the way of sustaining her in the front rank of Nevada towns.

An exchange says a poor man with a large family of daughters will find Washington a cheap place to live. After they get introduced into good society they do not require any clothes to speak of.

The resignation of Judge Samuel Treat of the United States District Court of the Eastern District of Missouri, was sent to the President yesterday.

Dr. McGlynn Expected to be Reinstated in St. Stephens.

SMALL-POX AT LOS ANGELES

The Baltimore & Ohio R. R. Disaster Investigated.

PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE

Guilt of Gross Negligence.

PITTSBURG, February 21.

A Post, Tiften, Ohio special says: The investigation of the Great Baltimore & Ohio wreck of January 4th, has drawn to an end finally and to-day the verdict will be rendered by Coronor Sepper. The verdict is a very lengthy document of which the following is a synopsis from an advance copy served last night. The Coroner first finds that William Fredericks of Holgate, Ohio; J. M. Frances and Frank Irwin of Black Hand, Ohio; W. S. Pierce of Wheeling, W. Va.; M. H. Parks of Washington, D. C.; Frank D. Bowman of Mechanicsburg, Pa.; David Ober of Berlin, Pa.; Thomas O. Pemberton of Payne, Ohio; Alvy B. Ice of Penfield Ill.; J. S. Gardner of Mechanicsville, Iowa, and others whose names are unknown, came to their death by a collision on the Baltimore & Ohio R. R., one-half mile west of the village of Republic, on January 4, 1887, at 2 o'clock A. M. He also finds that freight engine No. 923, was in an unsafe and unserviceable condition, and that the officials of the road had been notified of this fact, but still allowed it to be used. The engineer of the freight train, Edward S. Kiler, was not intoxicated as charged, but was worn out with 16 hours continuous duty, with a green fireman and a poor engine. He had a plenty of time to get to Republic from the Seneca siding, 38 minutes for 10 miles, but his engine was so poor and leaked so that the fires were put out and it died on the track at the point of collision. The conductor of the freight, L. F. Fletcher, failed in his duty for not flagging the limited express, for he knew the engine had died 10 minutes before the express was due. The brakes on the express were inferior and ineffective, for they failed to diminish the speed of 45 miles an hour, more than one-half in a distance of about 1,000 feet. The manner of heating and lighting the express cars was inferior, unsafe and dangerous, and contrary to the laws of the State of Ohio. Had the lighting and heating been proper, the cars would not have burned, and the loss of life would have been very light. We therefore find that the above persons came to their death through gross negligence on the part of the officials and managers of the Chicago division of the B. & O. R. R. of Garrett, Indiana; through the gross negligence of Conductor L. F. Fletcher, in failing to signal the express train, and through gross negligence on the part of the owners, managers and officials of the B. & O. Railway Company for using an said express train, inferior and ineffective brakes; also for using an improper, dangerous and unlawful manner of heating and lighting the cars of said express.

A Murderous Plot.

BOSTON, February 21.

On the corner of Kneeland and Federal streets stands a four-story brick residence block containing hundreds of inhabitants of the lowest class. Narrow stairs run from both streets to the roof, furnishing opportunities for ingress and egress that have often baffled the police. On top of this building, arranged in heaps just inside the narrow and shallow wooden coping, was found by the police, a miscellaneous assortment of bricks and paving stones. It is thought they were to be used for an attack upon the cars which pass this building. The possibilities of an attack of this nature on the cars, if that was the object aimed at, are simply horrible to contemplate. A shower of bricks descending from this height on the crowded horse cars, under a cloak of darkness, would have been murderous in result with a slight possibility of tracing the perpetrators. The South Boston road was at once notified and so the cars were taken off each night despite the public inconvenience, and the police were stationed in the vicinity.

The McGlynn Case.

NEW YORK, February 21.

The belief that Dr. McGlynn will be reinstated in St. Stephens Church, was the topic of conversation among the parishioners of that church yesterday.

It is said that McGlynn has received letters, not only from many priests of the Roman Catholic Church in this country and in Europe, but has also letters from several cardinals and bishops commanding his course and approving of his strength of purpose in holding to his opinions on property in land, which are, they say, consistent with the doctrines of the church. The theory now entertained by Dr. McGlynn's friends, is that he will be reinstated as pastor of St. Stephens; that he will return to his home in the rectory, and that he will then go to Rome. He will never go to Rome it is said, unless he goes as pastor of St. Stephens. The reinstatement of the Dr., it is believed, will take place before April 10, which is Easter Sunday. Dr. McGlynn's health is steadily improving and he now goes out daily. Masses were not largely attended yesterday and the collections were small.

A Bloodless Duel.

NEW ORLEANS, La., February 21.

Emile Riviere, manager, and Andre L. Roman, editor of the French evening paper, Trait D'Union, left yesterday morning for Jefferson Parish where they met on the field of honor. The weapons used were ordinary dueling pistols; the distance was 15 paces. After exchanging two shots each, without bloodshed, the seconds interposed and hostilities ended. It appears that there has been some misunderstanding regarding the management of the paper, and the duel was a result of the disagreement.

Troublesome Blockade.

BUTTE, Montana, February 21.

Three large stamp mills closed down here yesterday for want of salt, and two more will close to-day, thereby stopping work in all silver and copper mines, and throwing 500 men out of work. The trouble is due to a snow blockade.

A Slight Decrease.

BOSTON, February 21.

A table compiled from dispatches to the Post from the managers of the leading clearing houses of the United States, gives the total clearances for the week ending February 19th, as $950,232,405, a decrease of 1 1/4 per cent.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

Papal Affairs.

ROME, February 21.

Cardinal Gibbons has been very busy since his arrival here. No definite information of the business of the propaganda is known, but it is certain that great questions, touching Catholic interests in America, will be considered carefully. Cardinal Gibbons expected to express an opinion on all questions submitted for his views, because of his great acquaintance with present American questions and his strong love for American institutions. It is difficult to believe that the conclusion reached will be of an unfavorable character. Bishop Scarpa of Melbourne and Reane of Richmond, Va., congratulated the Pope in the Vatican to-day upon the anniversary of his pontificate. The Pope in his discourse, described the Baltimore council as an honor to America and to the whole church. Bishop Keane afterward thanked the Pope.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay County, Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am 73 years old again and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50¢ at S. J. Hodgkinson & Co.'s drug store.

A Bloodless Duel.

The Carson Appeal says: An example of the value of silence in legislation was never better exemplified than when Senator Pierces spoke for the Humboldt county railroad bill. He had been sitting quiet all the session and when he rose to speak the Senate was all attention. He made a short, direct talk full of sense and points, and when he sat down the result was the passage of the bill unanimously. Noisy members should study Pierces methods and profit thereby.

ZITKA.

Of the play to be produced at the Nevada Theater on Wednesday evening next, the San Francisco Wasp says: "Large and enthusiastic houses have been the rule at the Bush street this week, Carlton's drama of Zitka having 'caught on' in the fullest acceptance of the term. The play is not only full of strong situations and clever dramatic surprises, but the company is extraordinarily good. Messrs. Levee, Gorman and Duff all have effective parts, to which they do full justice, while the ladies are, without exception, both talented and attractive, notably Miss Josie Bacheiler, who takes the title role, and Miss Victoria Reynolds as the Princess Sabine. The completeness as regards both scenery and accessories, and that it is good for a prosperous run, is sufficiently attested by the enthusiasm of the large audiences that have attended since the opening night. Few more genuinely enjoyable and interesting plays have been presented to our public than Zitka."

Tickets and reserved seats at Thurston & Jamison's on Virginia street.

WHAT TRUE MERIT WILL DO.

The unprecedented sale of "Boeche's German syrup" within a few years has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of colds and the severest lung troubles. In fact, an entire difference principle from the usual prescriptions given by physicians, as it does not dry up a cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary, removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and gives them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases make their appearance, will save doctors' bill and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Prices, 75 cents, large bottles.

WHAT TO TELL HER.

Young man, if your best girl says anything to you about taking a sleigh ride, and your credit is not good with the livery stable keeper, just whisper gently in her ear that little incident that happened in New Jersey the other day, where a fellow took his sweetheart out sleigh riding, and the poor girl was so badly frozen that the wedding had to be postponed.

two are supposed to have entered his body, but as his body still lies in the bar-room where he fell, it is
